

BREAKING THE STATUE

i have always known
i just didn't understand the inner conflictions arresting our hands gravitating close enough expansive distamce between i couldn't give you more but i meant everything when the day comes you find your heart wants something more than a viece and a part your life will change like astatue set free to walk among us
to created estiny
we didn't break any rules we didn't make mistakes making beauty in loving making lovine for days
